

Newsletter 14

I am not sure what happened to Newsletter 13 or how Ian got from Carmarthen to the Highlands but here it is anyway – Graham.

What a fabulous week this has been, it started when I met a group from Irvine followed by a meeting with two other ladies from the charity. I also met another group of puppy walkers at the start of the West Highland way. They walked with me for a while. I felt truly honoured to meet them all. It was a great walk on the West highland way and to top it all I walked up Glen Nevis.

Thank you on behalf of Guide Dogs for the Blind for all your generosity and donations. I thank you for your support; I love every second of this challenge.
